BUSINESS LITIGATION

Robert Eckard is a native of New York and has been living in Florida for over 30 years. A founding partner, Eckard established the firm in 2000 after leaving the State Attorney's Office, 6th Judicial Circuit, where he prosecuted felony and misdemeanor criminal cases and is board-certified in business litigation by the Florida Bar (less than 300 lawyers in Florida are board-certified in business litigation). Eckard also has an LL.M. in International Law and Business from Stetson University College of Law. He is licensed to practice in Washington, D.C., the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals, the U.S. Court of International Trade and the U.S. Supreme Court. Eckard's background, training and experience in business litigation and criminal defense make him uniquely qualified at handling business crimes. Eckard also handles cases involving noncompete agreements and complex commercial litigation.
